

Who are we ?

L'ESA: Ecole Supérieure d'Agriculture d'Angers

In the city of Angers in the Loire Valley in North West France, ESA is one of the leading French educational institutions in the land-based sector. It is the largest provider of graduates for France's agribusiness, rural development and rural economy sectors. It is a "Grande école" awarding undergraduate and postgraduate diplomas (including the French equivalent of a PhD). With a strong international dimension, the School also has very dynamic community life including the ESA Challenge club.

The ESA Challenge club

The ESA Challenge project has been created by a student association, who completely manage and organize the event.

How to register?

Inscriptions are handled by the intermediary of students representing your university. A contribution of 50 euros will be requested from participating students.

This amount does not include transport to Angers, but after contact, we will be able to assist you to find a means of financing the transport (European subsidies, sponsors...)
